Army IMCOM Directorates and Garrison Alignment

The U.S. Army Installation Management Command has transformed to enhance readiness for today's force and the future Army, especially in the areas of mission command, workforce strength and alignment, program/service delivery, and as a change agent to align policies with the current environment.

The organization is realigned to be better integrated with the Army commands it supports. The five IMCOM directorates are more efficient and improve mission command through unity of purpose, a smaller number of garrisons to manage, and similar demographics of communities.
